What shall we do?: We need a radical paradigm change for next 20-30 years

- We are still caught in the notion of industrial capitalism.
- All advanced countries are concurring in transforming the industrial economy into a knowledge economy → cognitive capitalism
- With Damasio's credo all of us should try to link our 'Heimatliebe' (love of one's native place, country) to 'rational alliance' for exercising change of urgency.

3.IDEOPOLIS

- The Work Foundation (2006) defines Ideopolis as a sustainable knowledge city that drives growth in wider city-region:
 - primary accent on endogenous development falling back to knowledge based industries (IT, design, r/d, green industry...)
 - high level of knowledge intensity (explicit/implicit) manifest in occupations, including high value services of health, education, etc.
 - intensive R/D activities in intense cooperation excellent universities and businesses
 - creative strong leadership in public and private sector
 - inseparable combination with arts and cultures and infrastructure (to a certain extent)

Three Approaches towards Positioning of Knowledge Cities

1. Infrastructure Approach: hinging on traditional huge capital investment, fixed-capital projects aimed at international recognition (e.g. monstrous exhibitions, olympic games, mega-convention centers, huge financial centers, huge container ports)
2. Sci-Tech approach: development of institutions and R/D activities at the leading edge of knowledge (e.g. bio-science, ICT park/labs) as well as high tech sectors (telecommunication, aerospace) combined with dynamic economy

- One Country Two Systems?

To ensure that HK and Macao's existing capitalist system and life-style are to remain unchanged for 50 years after their returns to China.

Not sufficient to address the cross border issues.

- One Country Many Systems!

A Fragmented Administrative Structure

- 3 Provincial level units:
 - Two Special Administrative Region (HK and Macao)
 - Guangdong Province
- 6 Prefecture level units:
 - Provincial capital with sub-provincial status: Guangzhou
 - Two special economic zones (Shenzhen and Zhuhai) with one having sub-provincial status (Shenzhen)
 - Other prefecture level units

Cooperation – Current Issues

- No regional institution. Guangdong or any city in the PRD does not have the jurisdiction to discuss integration with Hong Kong or Macao without the endorsement of central government.
- Territorial imbalances in the Greater PRD are substantial. It is most unlikely that this huge economic gap will be overcome in the near future. Spatial inequalities and disparities between Hong Kong and Macao and the other parts of the Pearl River Delta are highly sensitive.
- Cooperation efforts are led by single-project approach (e.g. HK-Macao-Zhuhai Bridge)
- There is a growing trend of co-petition in the region

The PRD: Planning Responses

Pearl River Delta Urban Cluster Coordinated Development Plan

Address challenges in relation to a growing population, land use, spatial regulation, infrastructure, and environment by offering a number of strategies, such as developing an integrated transportation network, and imposing a better top-down regulation.

The Öresund region: 3,7 million inhabitants - The largest region in Sweden-Denmark

ØRESUNDsinSTITUTET

: 3,700

But the Öresund region is a new region...

In the 1990's the region were split in two parts

The cultural differences were huge

Danes didn't like Swedes very much (Denmark lost 1/3 of it's kingdom in 1658 to Sweden.)

In 1991, the politicians decided to build a fixed link between Sweden and Denmark, to create a new region and to improve relations between the countries.

The bridge reduced time for transport

ØRESUND SINSTITUTTET

The figure shows how long time it took to travel to Bella Congress centre before (left) and after (right) the bridge. But time is only one part. The cooperation is about reducing cost of information and to have efficient institutions to improve daily life of the people.

Cross-border cooperation as a strategy for the Öresund region

The fixed link was not enough.

People need to have incentives to use the bridge. The two countries needed to build cross-border institutions to facilitate a common market for labour, housing, culture and business.

Cross-border cooperation: Institutions/organisations

1. Political cooperation: Öresund committee
2. Academic cooperation: Öresund University (network university)
3. Public authorities' cooperation: Öresunddirekt (cooperation between tax authorities, the labour market agencies and the agencies for social care)
4. Science cooperation: Öresund Science Region with platforms within biotechnology, ICT, logistics, environment and food
5. Analysis: Øresundsinstituttet (independent analysis of the region's economic development)
6. Business integration: Copenhagen-Malmö Port, Öresund Bridge Company
7. Traffic cooperation: DSB First operates the Öresund railway traffic

1. Political cooperation: Öresund Committee

Öresund Committee: Regional political leaders meet.
Secreteriat based in Copenhagen

Objectives: Influence national politics, improve regional development and work with e.g. national political barriers, infrastructure, culture, labour market

Today it works with a long term plan for the common infrastructure and the needs ahead

1. :

2. Academic cooperation: Öresund University

Öresund University is made up of 12 member universities with 165.000 students.

Secretariat in Copenhagen and Lund

Objectives: Facilitate for students to study in the whole region and for cooperation between the universities and their faculties.

Example: A course in European politics can be in Copenhagen one year and in Malmö the next. The students study in both countries.

- Example : A course in European politics can be in Copenhagen one year and in Malmö the next. The students study in both countries.

3. Public authorities' cooperation: Öresunddirekt

The public authorities were very national, but has learnt about each other through the common organisation Öresunddirekt (cooperation between tax authorities, the labour market agencies and the agencies for social care).

Result: The citizens can get service and find information about laws and rules much easier than before. The cost of information is reduced.

4. Scientific cooperation: Öresund Science Region

The Öresund Science Region have four platforms within ICT, logistics, environment and food and partnership with Medicon Valley Agency within biotechnology. Work with lobbying, information and conferences.

Star Region winner - number 1 in Europe

Öresund Science Region won the prestigious EU RegioStar price in the category 'Supporting Clusters and Business Networks'. In February 2008 the independent expert panel justified their choice:

"This project [ÖSR] has had real impact and has overcome language, legislative and physical barriers by building inter-regional partnerships that had previously been non-existent. It is an excellent example of a bottom-up triple helix approach. The project has a good administrative foundation, good working partnerships and is a good example of successful networking".

4. Scientific cooperation:

- ICT, , , Medicon Valley Agency

- - 1 EU " . 2008 2 " 3

5. Analysis: Øresundsinstitutet

Øresundsinstitutet is an independent analysis institute within regional economics, development, infrastructure, labour and housing markets, business and politics

Financed by 80 members from Denmark and Sweden (the large number secure independence) of which 60 companies and 20 public organisations.

Secretariat in Malmö.

Production of quarterly magazine, reports and books. Arranging conferences. Demand of information from the media and the public.

6. Business integration

The ports of Copenhagen and Malmö have merged to take advantage of the Öresund bridge's all possibilities.

The Oresund Bridge Company operates the bridge and is an important actor in the integration process as it wants traffic on the bridge to repay the loans.

Each day 20.000 vehicles and 20.000 commuters crosses the bridge.

7. Traffic cooperation

DSB First operates the Öresund railway traffic on behalf of the Danish and Swedish railway companies.

The railway traffic is today an integrated regional system. The clients don't experience they cross a national border when they travel.

7.

- DSB First

Some results:

Danes have started to move to Malmö and the Skåne region (15.000 net since 2000)

Swedes have started to find job in Copenhagen

Business start to operate on the other side of Öresund

- (Skåne)
15,000). (2000

Remaining barriers

Denmark and Sweden have not joined the euro area, but have their national currencies the Danish and the Swedish krona.

Taxes differ between Sweden and Denmark. The VAT is lower in Sweden and the tax on cars, while employers pay more in tax for their employees.

Many organisations are national and work in the national interest and don't think binational. That's why the setup of crossborder organisations are necessary!

ÖRESUNDSINSTITUTET

Conclusion

The setup of crossborder organisations have been successful and facilitated the creation of a common and integrated Öresund region, despite the strong Danish and Swedish culture which existed in the 1990's.

I. Background

■ Globalization and Emergence of Mega City Region

● Concurrent progress of Urbanization and Conurbation

- Development of transportation, advanced industrial structure, increased income, change of life style etc.
- Urbanization : 21C can be called the first urbanized century.
The proportion of urban population (19C, 3% -> present, 50% -> 2030, 60% ; Florida, Who's your city ?)

- Conurbation : Conurbation, Metropolis, Megalopolis etc.

● The advancement of globalization and the change of competitive structure

- Nations' competition -> Mega city regions' competition
- Deepening polarization between developed and declining areas
 - The key for regional development : mega city region (domestically), global megalopolis networks (internationally)

1

- (EMR, Ginsberg), Global city-regions(Scott), Mega-region (Florida)

- Growing importance of mega city region in economic activity

- Concentration of control power, the finance and service, and the cultural and creative industry in mega city regions
- Growing importance of a mega city region as the foundation of all the economic activities as population, economy, transportation infrastructure, and cultural facilities have been concentrated in a mega city region.

- Growing importance as a node of connecting service and a key position of business in accordance to the advanced structure of industry

- Enlarging Metro Regions (EMR, Ginsberg), Global city-regions (Scott), Mega-regions (Florida) etc.

- Mega city regions focus on the profitable environment of businesses to secure their competitiveness.
