The diagram illustrates the operational characteristics of the Yeosu-gu Resident Participation Budget System, divided into two main paths (A and B) originating from the system's features.

- Path A (가): This path focuses on the initial setup and submission phase. It begins with the signing of a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) in 2011, followed by the formation of the Resident Participation Budget Committee in 2011, and concludes with the submission of the budget bill in 2011.
- Path B (나): This path focuses on the review and execution phase. It starts with the review of the budget bill in 2012, followed by the decision on the budget bill in 2012, and ends with the execution of the budget in 2012.

A central role, indicated by the label "(moderator)", is shown connecting the two paths, suggesting a coordinating function between the preparation and the review/execution stages.
